THE BALLEON ASCENSION, by Mrs. Davis. J. B. Marshall, Fayettville; on Saturday last, created a good deal of excitement, particularly among the juvenile portion of our community. The balloon which is a very large one, was inflated with rarified air, and left its moorings in fine style and soared away into the blue ethereal. After a short ascension, it commenced returning rap dly, and landed a little north of the suspension bridge, on the opposite side of the river. It was feared that Mrs. D. would meet with a serious accident, the descent being so | Received by JOHN YORK & Co. rapid, but we are pleased to learn she entirely escaped, save a small scratch on one of her arms. She will make her second ascension this evening, from the Broadway House, on which occasion any gentleman wishing to accompany her will have an opportunity.

A SPECK OF WAR .- A late London paper says:-"It is a strange feature in the political history of Europe at the present moment, that every State is arming and fortirying itself against some imaginary enemy, and that TRIUMPHANT the works are being hastened, according to their own words, in the provision of events that may soon arise." What events? Who can tell? Our brethrea on the other side of the Atlantic are utterly at fault. Even little Belgium is about to fertify one of her towns, at an expense of 40,000,000 of francs; while the naval equipment and fortifications of Cherbourg, now the principal French naval station in the Channel, are said to border on the marvellous for their perfection and magnitude. What does all this mean, and what is Louis Nepoleon preparing for?"

Supreme Judge--- Hon, Archibald Wright.

Judge WRIGHT, the Governor's appointee announces himself as a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, at the ensuing special election on the first Thursday in September. Judge Wright is undoubtedly one of the rip-est lawyers in the State. He has been urged by large numbers of his professional brethren to assume the position of a candidate, and will be warmly supported in every portion of the State by the bar and people. Not only i he fitted by judicial learning, long practice, and a sound legal mind for this high position. but the purity of his life and his unblemished character for uprightness and integrity render him peculiarly the proper man to adorn the bench, and give lustre and authority to its | 1 Prize

In selecting such men for judicial station the people do honor to themselves, and confer the highest benefit upon the cause of justice and good order. The probability is that there will be no opposition to the election of Jouge WRIGHT, so unanimous is the conviction of his high capacity and fitness for the position .- Mem-

"I TOLD YOU So."-Of all the phrases in common use we know of none more prolific of evil than this one: "I told you so." A man tired, sad and dispirited at the ill success of a scheme, meets a friend to whom he relates his trouble in the vain hope of sympathy. finds his grief augmented by the sudden elevation of his friend's eyebrows, sagacious shake of the head, and, the "I told you so-I knew how it would be!!! entirely extinguishes the little flame of hope that till then flickered in his breast. "I told you so!" so I did; and I will continue to tell you for your comfort, however, to wear only the cool and graceful summer styles of Clifton, Albright & Co., the fashionable clothiers, No. 15 Cedar street.
